Tan political world of our sister city, Brooknyn, is, this season, in a state of unusual agita-tion. The "regular" Democrats seem to have been nose-led into a set of nominations far from palatable, and the result is a split in the ranks, which, under ordinary circumstances, would throw the election entirely in the hands of their opponents. But the Republicans and Amerithe offices four tickets will be run at next week's election. Under these circumstances, it is to be re_ gretted that there are not in the field a few honest men of known reputation, as independent candi-dates, upon whom the people might concentrate their votes, and so win the day.

. New York is supposed to know something about rowdy rule at primary elections, but the developments already made in this canvass show the Brooklyn politicians as no laggards-if, in deed, they be not head and shoulders above us of New York. It is boldly proclaimed that, of the members of the convention which put FRAN-CES SPINGLA in nomination as Senator, and SCHUMAKER as District Attorney, one is under indictment for felony and misdemeanor; another for highway robbery, and another for maybem and assault and battery; another for perjury and other offences, and another was recently held to bail for assault and battery with intent to kill, while of those, remaining one, certainly, was a regular pugilist employed in the office of one of the nominees. Indeed, the names and particulars of these things were furnished very fully to anxious inquirers at the time the nominations were made, with the addenda that they had been screened from trial and punishment expressly, as an inducement to "go in" and make the nemirations required.

We know of no reason for doubting these assertions-indeed their truth is, in a great degree, verified by the extent of the split in the party. They seem to be acknowledged as true. No wisdom is necessary to determine that a convention of such characters is undeserving of respect, and that there must be something wrong about candidates who would allow themselves to be placed before the public by them. Brooklyn voters who think, if there are any such, will scarcely need to be cautioned.

One of the richest nominations made in Brooklyn is, however, that of a man named KELSEY. for the Second Assembly District. Kalser has recently been an office-holder under the Republicans, and, so far as he had any political views, was supposed to be a strong Republican. Not succeeding in obtaining a nomination from his own party, for which he manipulated strongly, he turned his coat and, presto, he is a good Democrat and up for office. Now, Mr. KELSAY may be a very good man, but we cannot believe he is a good Democrat, and if his political views without such protection as should be afforded to settlers. From New Mexico, the lower line of the Rio Grande and Arizona, come constant complaints of frequent outrages upon our citizens, These complaints cannot be disregarded by the Government at Washington. If the policy pursued with the Indian tribes be such as to leave any doubt of its correctness, let it be changed and more vigerous, and if necessary, harsh measures be adopted towards these tribes. We see it stated that the annual subsidies paid to the Indians by our agents are regarded by them as a sort of tribute or purchase money for peace. If this be so, it can only have the effect to embolden them in the commission of acts of robbery and bloodshed. Those better competent to judge of these matters than we, think that the Indian agencies should all be placed in the hands of military men. Objection is made, also, to the plan of securing, or attempting so to do, the fronters by lines of forts, which are far separated and fully garrisoned. Upon this point the New Orleans Picayune says:

New Orleans Picagime says:

There is no recessity for fortified places except as store houses for supplies, while the armed force should be dragoone, and their time should be mainly spent in the saiddle, patroling the vast wild; over which the savages ream. It is now plain, if the re-reports which come regularly from Arizona, New Mexice, and Noethern Texas are true, that the Indian cannot be restrained by treatics, but must be reduced to eider by the sword. The subject of projection for the frontiers have seamed an importance that demands the prompt action of the Gineral Government through highestically Congress.

The Steamer Champion.

The steamer Champion, which was run into and sunk in the Sound, by collision with the propeller Alba'ross, has been raised, and is now on her way to this city, in tow of two steam tugs. We find in the statements of the passen . gers some additional particulars in regard to the accident. Mr. C. W. Town.r, of this city, who was on board at the time of the accident, did no: go to bed that morning.

As he walked about the boat, he bad a strange presentment that he had better not go to skep that night, and this feeling was so strong that he never took off his clothes, but cost much rule growing about until the collision counted. He even went through the cable and counted the passengers, and state that there were it makes in the bestis in the gentlements cabin. About five o'clock on Wednesdey morning he was standing by the engine morning a firement how to mange the engine. He had just stepped have into the cabin, and taken a chair, when he heard the concussion, and found the steam morning through the wassel. His presentiment was strongly aroused; he knew that semething had happered, and geing, to the betth, and finding his son in a sound along, he took him out bodily, and carried him up on dack without was ing him. The lad did not wake up until he was safe on the unper deek. The water filled the cabin so quickly that Mr. Townier's confident that had he stopped to wake the boy up he would have been drowned. He says he was surprised that the noise of the collision was so slight; he could like in it to not they but striking a dull axe he could not have been drowned. He had he was a few or the noise of the collision was so slight; he could like it to not they but striking a dull axe he could not have waken him. On reaching the deck he went at once to the laddes' cabin. He was surprised to fit in occidualne or exclude the mass had been was from the once to the name cabin. He was surprised to find no confusion or exc teacht on bland; he heard only ore extean from the females, and that was from the chain be made; and he met the ladies coming out of the cabin deliberately and in perfect order, as if under the direction of a marshal. They walked deliberately out, and from the s'eamer it'ey went directly on board the propel'er, which still stuck to the Champion.

I want abcard, and went to bed in the after cabin there being no state-rooms on the boat. I suppose she left her dock at about three o'clock, being engaged some two hours in unleading and taking in freight. I was awakened by a loud crash, jumped up and rushed on deck. On reaching the premenade deck, I saw that we were foul of a propeller, and were sluking rapidly, while the propeler kept up.—She had struck as on the port side, jut forward of the smeke stack, remaining imbedded in the side of the Champlon until after the passengers hat gone aboar do the from the promenade deck of the struck cut. By this time the steamboat, when she reversed her engines and backed cut. By this time the steamboat had sunk to her promenade deck. The propeller is a large boat—one hundred tons burden, I should say—being shout twice the size of the Champlon, and would have cut us down, striking us as she did, if the Champlon had been an iron boat. I think she must have it versed her engines before she struck us, or she would have gone clear through us, and cut us in two.

The morning was perfectly clear and quite light for the hour. I looked at my watch as I reached the deck, and saw that it was just five o'dook. There was no fog, and I saw no possible excuse for the prepeller's running into us. I think she was endeavering to cross our bows, not ca'culating our rate of speed correctly. I noticed particularly during the Champion and her lights properly displayed. The Albatress was not injured by me collision. The Champion sank to be promenade deck in a very few minutes. THE TREATY OF PRACE.

York for Liverpool.

A Zurich telegram of the 19th says: The principal points of the Treaty of Peace between France and Austra, signed by the Pienipotentiaries, but not yet ratified by the two Governments, are as follows:—Austria gives up Lombardy, except Mantua and Peachters, and, as far as the frontier line, fixed by special commission, to France, who transfers it to Piedmont. Pensions acquired in Lombardy are to be paid by the new Government. Piedmont is to pay Austria 40,0000 florins, and be responsible for three fifths of the debt of Monte Lombard Venetia, making the dott in all transferred to Sardints 250,000.000 francs. The two contracting powers will unite their efforts, in order that reform in the Administration should be carried out by the Pope. The rights of the Dukes of Tuscany, Modena and Parma are expressly reserved to the two Emperors, who will assist with all their power in the formation of a confederation of all the States of Raly. Venet's, under Austrian rule, is to form part of the Confederation. Ratifications will be seen from the above that the treaty is merely an amplification of the Villafranca agreement.

The Paris Pays intimates of its own knowledge, that in a Congress accepted in principle by the English Government, the only powers to be represented besides the great ones, will be Piedment, the Pope and Naples. Under certain eventualities, the admission of Spain might be national, but Sweden and Portugal have no claims.

The Independence Beige says that out of compliment to Naroldon, Austria proposed that the Congress should sit in Paris, but this was declined, and the chances favored Brussels.

The policy of England in taking part in the Congress was being canvassed by the Fress, and generally the arguments were against it. The London Times and Herald are both averse to England joining any European Crigress on Italian affairs.

The London Post (Lord Palmenton's organ) asserts that it were an idle trifling with the influence of England, and the hopes of Italy, to expect that any English statement at all vertify of the name would bazard his own reputation and the national honor entrusted to his care by entering a Congress of which the basis may be in the execution of the Zurich treaty.

Noble Conduct of the Commander of a Vescel.

Captain Johnson, of the brig St, Mary, from this port, thus writes from St. Thomas: On the 5th of October, in lat. 30, long. 70, was thrown on our beam ends, dismasted, and lost deck load. On the 11th, discovered a steamer steering for him, which proved to be the Gladiator. Soon after, Capt. Hickley came on board in his boat, and asked what assistance he could render. Capt. J. said he would like to have some spars to rig jury masts, when he replied, "I have no spars that I can let you have, but I am from Bermuda, bound to St. Thomas, and if you like tokgo there, I will take you in tow." Capt. J. said it would take his whole vessel and cargo to pay him for such services, and he could Capt. J. said it would take his whole vessel and cargo to pay him for such services, and he could not think of it. Capt. H. tapped him on the shoulder, and said, "Never nind, old boy," pointing to his vessel, "that is H. B. M.'s ship, and it is my duty to assist you in distress; I will not charge you a cepper; have you any hawsers? if not, I have." And he went on board and sent hawsers to the St. Mary, and took her in tow. Two nights before they arrived at St. Thomas, it being rough, both hawsers parted during the night, when the gallant captain of the Gladiator immediately clewed up his sails, turned his ship's head for the brig, and halled Captain Johnson, "Never mind, old fellow, I will not desert you, but lay by you till moraling." Which he did—then took her in tow, and carried her safely into port—having towed her really 800 miles. Such gallant and meritorious conduct on the part of Capt. Hrck-Ley is deserving of all praise, and we trust that the United States Government, as well as his own, will reward him suitably.

ELDERBERKY WISE .- The scant grape crop this season has turned attention in other directions for a substitute, and among others to wine made from elderberries. Mr. ALPRED SPEER, of Passaic N. J., seems to have met with great success in his experiments, judging from a sample sent to us. It re embles good port wine, and Mr. S. assures us that it is the "pure juice" of the clderberry-free from any adulteration whatever.

THE BRODERICK OBSEQUIES. - To-morrow (Sunday) the firemen attend, in a body, the funers becquies of the late Senator BRODERICK, at the Academy of Music. The companies form in Hudson street, with the right resting on Christopher [street; at 1 o'clock they proceed through Hudson and Fourteenth streets, Broadway, Chatham street and Bowery, to the Academy of Music, where a funeral oration will be delivered. Chief Engineer Howard is to be the arshal of the procession.

An interesting tale of New England life, ontitled "The Schoolmaster's Woolng," is now being published in "Life Illustrated." The twelfth number is just out.

THE DRAYTONS are in the mouths of the enterment seekers just now. Their Parlor Operas and Lyric Proverbs seem quite to take by storm. Night before last they appeared at the hall of the Polytech. nic Institute, Brooklyn, and last night at the French Theatre, opposite the Metropolitan Hotel. Nex week, Tuesday, they commence at a new "Open House" of the'r own, 718 Broadway. What "the DRAYTONS" are, and what they do, may so briefly stated. Mr. and Mrs. Hacks DRAYTON are two excellent operatic artists, who get up and of themselves fill all the parts of petite musical plays, such as are well adapted to parlor performances They are good singers and good actors, and being constantly together, give more finished performance than are usually found either at theatre or open

THE CARCELLED CHECK incident referred the other day, was incorrect, so far as it represented the boy as having a cancelled check in his hand. He was offered $100 for such a check, and informe his employers voluntarily and without questioning spects commendable.

OFFICE OF THE ASSOLATED PRESS, DS Beaver at., Nev. 1, 1859.

To Amos Pillsbury, Est.,
General Superintendent of Police.
Dear Sir: On election nights, our measuragers have frequently had much difficulty in gaining admission to the Inspectors' rooms, and in order to facilitate the collection of returns, on Tuesday next, I beg to ask, on behalf of the Associated Press, that you will, on the day of election, give special instruction to the policemen on duty at the several poliing districts, to admit our messengers to the rooms of the Cauvassers with as little delay as possible, and under such regulations as you may think proper to order.

EST Each authorized messenger of the Associated Press will be furnished with a suitable card of admission.

Respectfully your obedient servant.

Respectfully your obedient servant, D. H. Chaid, Gen. Agest N. Y. Ass'd Press. OFFICE OF THE SUPERIFICATION OF THE MATROPOLITAN POLICE, 418 Broome at.

BALLOONING.— Editor Sun:—I believe the sastern current has not been fully tested yet, and I will suggest a plan by which it may be without risk will suggest a plan by which it may be without risk of life.

Let half a dozen ballcome be filled with gas enough to secend three miles, and stay up three days or more, and let them start for Europe at the same time from New Orleans, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, without human freight, and if any of them come down on the other side of the big pond we shall be likely to know it. We do not know as yet that the air current extends across the cocan, and in this way it might be tested without the risk of human life.

If it is a fact that this current exists around the world, then air sailing must become before long the quickest way of travelting, and I hope Mr. Lows will succeed in his trip across the ocean.

CHARGE OF LIBEL. COMMODORE VANDER-BILT VS. HENRY J. RAYMOND .- Commodore BILT VS. HENRY J. HATMOND.—Commodore Cornellus Vandershilt, on Friday, appeared before Justice Osborne, and made a complaint for libel against Mr. Henry J. Raymonn, editor of the New York Times. The alleged libelous article, it appears, was in the Times of the 18th ult., and was entitled "The Filibuster Movement," "Important Developments," "A Steamer load of Arms and Munitions leaving New York." This article, as alleged, charges Mr. Vandershilt with having dispatched the steamer Fhiladelphia to Nicaragua, with arms and amunition, for the purpose of opening the transit route, and also with having conspired with General Walker te perfect the scheme. These allegations Mr. Vandershilt pronounces to be totally false, and avers that they were made to injure him. He states that he has never had any intimacy, association or negotiation of any kind whatever with Walkers; that he never owned, nor had any interest in the "Philadelphia," and that he never had the slightest ides or intention of endeavoring to open the Nicaragua route except by honorable and lawful means. He claims that the article was published out of ill will towards him, and with the view of defeating his endeavors to conduct a lawful business, and prays that the said HENRY J. RAYMOND be arrested and dealt with according to law. The magistrate notified Mr. R. to appear at Court this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and answer the charge. CORNELUS VANDERSILT, on Friday, appeared before DARIEG HIGHWAY ROBBERY .- On Thursday DARIFG HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Thursday evening, an old man, who gave his name as John Wilson, residing in Cariton avenus, Brooklys, while passing up Broadway, was accessed by a "nymph du pave," named Mayarer Clark, who soen induced him to go with her to Lafayrtte Piace, where Malleges she stole his pocket book. He attempted to follow her, when he was collared, as al eged, by a stort looking young fellow, named Jakes Baown, who pretended to be a detective officer, entered into a conversation with him, and finally taking hold of his watch guard, seized the watch, with which he was about to make off, when officer Bauer, of the 26th precinct, seized him. A desperate struggle ensued, during which, Brown, it is alleged, drew a loaded revolver and attempted to shoot Baser, who was quick enough to seize his hand and keep it out of the way, until officer Hogan, who had secured the girl, came to his rescue. Brown was then seof the way, until officer Houan, who had secure the girl, came to his rescue. Brown was then so cured, and together with Wnsox, locked up. Ye terday morning, they were taken before Alderms Baary, who sent them to the Tombs, and had Wr sox to bail, for $500. The woman Claus, while Court, was recognized as an old effender.

TRAMENDOUS EXCITEMENT-AN ELEPHANT

TREMENDOUS EXCITEMENT—AN ELEPHANT LOOSE IF THE STREETS,—Yesterday morning, a trumendous excitement was created in the lower-part of Williamsburgh, caused by the elephant belonging to Van Annuaus, caused by the elephant belonging to the members, which were brought in a wagon. The man drove into the tent, and white unloading his wagon the elephant was observed to grow restless at the sight of the horse which had a white blanket em. The man was advised to take his horse away, but before he could do so the elephant advanced a few steps and knocked the horse by means of his trunk, next seised the horse by means of his trunk, and injured him seriously. He next seized the wagon, throwing it up in the air and threaking it to pieces. His sager was fully arcused them, and proceeding to the cayed the prairie wolf smashed it with his trunk, releasing him. Next in his mad way was the cage of a black bear. This cage was demokabed but the bear was chained up and could not escapa. The cage of the zelora being next in his way, he pushed it through the tent and clear through the wall of as small shanty at the back of the tent. Then leaving the tent he got into the street, pursued by his keeper and hundreds of people, mone of whom were able to cope with the enraged elephant. He did not molest passers by, but seemed to have a great aversion to horses, which he would pursue as rapidly as he was able, being hoppied with a chain connecting his tusks with one of his fore legs. He was finally driven by the crowd into the stone yard, corner of South Fourth and Seventh street. Here a number of workmen were engaged in dressing atone, and had just placed upon wooden horses a large stone weighing about fifteen hundred tone. In attempting to get out of the atone yard the elephant got caught by his chain to this stone which checked him. The keepers gradually approached him be the corner of the best checked him. The keepers gradually approached him with chains to fasten his legs, but it was not till he had received several severe blows with spears that his attention could be diverted so as to reader it possible to further secure him. Finally, he was thrown down upon his side, where he lay for some time bellowing and thrashing about him with his trunk. Application was made to Hook and Ladder Companies Nos. I and 5, who furnished the keepers with large hooks. One of these was run through one of his ears and twisted round until the poor animal tould not move his head from pain of the wound. When he was perfectly subdued, he was heavily bound with chains, and taken back to the menagerie. He is almost covered with weunds received from the hooks and spears, and it is not deemed asfe to exhibit him for a few days, nor would it be ease for his keeper to approach within sight of him. It is a very fortunate circumstance that no person was killed by the elephant, or trampled to death in the confusion of escape, as it is the poor animal is the greatest sufferer. This is the largest elephant that has been exhibited in this part of the country, and is the same that a few years since caused such have by escaping from his cage at Harlem. These fits of anger, it is said, occur annually, and the keepers have for some time been expecting some such demonstration, and kept a more careful watch over him.

TILL THEVES.—Saturday two boys named NAMEAN HUNT and WILLIAM J. BLACK were sent to the Penitentiary for six months by Justice SEYDES, for robbing the till in the grocery store of Mrs. Wick-ERS, in Stagg street, E. D.

ASSAULT UPON A WOMAN.—A few evenings since a respectable frish woman from New York was on a visit to some friends in Will'amsburgh, and being detained late, returned through Division arenue, when she was assaulted by two ruffishs, who, after attempting to lead her in a different direction from that in which she was going, seized hold of her, when she made her escape and took refuge in a house near by. She was afterwards accompanied to the ferry by the gentleman of the house.

A CORMUNICATION.—Editor of New York Sun:

—For the purpose of correcting a report in The Sun:

of this morning, headed "Robbed by Servant Girls," I certify that I arrested Many Curnay in the City of Brooklyn. She had been a servant girl at the house of Mrs. Ancurs, in Grand street, New York, and not a boarder. The trunks containing the stolen property were not found at the house of Mrs. Ancurs; neither did Mrs. Ancurs suspect her of dishonesty, until it was found that jewelry and other things had been taken from Mrs. Ancurs, and secreted in trunks kept by the girl away from the house of Mrs. Ancurs. Brooklyn, E. D., Nov. 4th, 1869. Prep. Course, Policeman, No. 1188.
